		studies, critical evaluation skills to integrate theory and practice to solve problems.			NV0606/ NV0616 NV0604/ NV0614
Foundation	C5	Demonstrate an understanding of the sources and content of economic data and apply various models and techniques to analyse economic situations, taking into consideration the principles of sustainability and equality, diversity and inclusion.			NV0602/ NV0612
Foundation	S1	Utilise a critical perspective informed by diversity, equity, and inclusion to employ relevant analytical skills, methodologies, and appropriate referencing techniques to present findings from a wide range of appropriate learning sources.			NV0600
Foundation	S2	Develop an understanding of mathematical concepts and principles within the well-defined contexts in the fields of economics, finance and accounting as well as application of tools and techniques, demonstrating justification of the methods used.			NV0601/ NV0691 NE0608/ NE0698
Foundation	S3	Demonstrate a systematic understanding of relevant knowledge and utilize this to effectively communicate using quantitative or qualitative information in an organisational context.			NV0605/ NV0695 NV0606/ NV0616 NV0618/ NV0698
Foundation	S4	Develop a systematic understanding of the sources and content of economic data using appropriate numerical and graphical techniques, and of those methods			NV0602/ NV0612 NV0604/ NV0614 that might be applied to the analysis of such data.

Foundation	S5	Demonstrate the ability to use appropriate practices and perform work within a professional, legal and ethical framework – including data management and use, security, equality, diversity and inclusion (EDI).			NV0605/ NV0695 NV0606/ NV0616 NV0600

Learning/teaching strategies and methods to enable learning outcomes to be achieved, including formative assessments

The Programme Element will be delivered using a combination of Lectures/Labs/Tutorials/Self-directed study:

Lecture

- Purpose: - To deliver basic module material.
- Structure: Each module has 4/6 hours contact time per week which is normally delivered in 2-hours blocks. No period of contact should exceed fifty (50) minutes at one time without a minimum of a ten (10) minute break.

Lab

- Purpose: Lab sessions provide a forum in which students can practice their practical skills.
- Structure: Each lab is normally of two hours in duration whilst breaks are to be provided at the discretion of the lecturer. No period of contact should exceed fifty (50) minutes at one time without a minimum of a ten (10) minute break.

Tutorial

- Structure: Sessions are normally conducted according to preparation for specific topics and provide a collegiate atmosphere to encourage students to interact with class members building their class, or 'team', knowledge and skills. For each module, there is one hour a week tutorial session.

Self-directed study

Each student is expected to undertake a minimum number of hours in individual study per week in order to support and build the skills, knowledge and understanding presented in each lecture and small group tutorial session per week. It is expected that students will increase the number of individual study hours as they approach formal assessment events. The ability for students to expand their learning by creating effective self-directed study patterns is a transferable skill deemed fundamental to further academic success as well as a key time-management tool.

Formative assessment is a key aspect of the programme and is varied to ensure that a student has a variety of learning opportunities. This will include individual and group formative assessment methods, presentations, individual and group work; and peer review.

All students are provided with access to a range of online resources through the student portal. Electronic journals and electronic books are available through the Brunel University e-resources gateway.

There will be a focus of using freely available tools and benefiting from the resources available on the internet to support learning.

Guest speakers from relevant industries will provide additional perspectives for students.

Summative assessment strategies and methods to enable learning outcomes to be demonstrated.

Summative assessment methods are varied to ensure appropriate assessment of learning outcomes. These methods include individual and group projects; open-book examinations; oral presentations; case studies and portfolios and closed-book final examinations.
